Saint Paul's Universities, Colleges, Technical & Vocational Schools

Saint Paul has a rich and wide variety of fine higher education institutions. The National Center for Education reports that the below 14 colleges in the City of St. Paul enrolled 39,767 students during the 2007-2008 school year. In addition, St. Paul hosts several global educational institutions providing testing and preparation for college. The U.S. Census 2000 reported that 32% of Saint Paul residents have a post-secondary degree compared to the U.S. average of 24%. See below for the complete list:

College of St. Catherine	http://www.stkate.edu/
College of Visual Arts	http://www.cva.edu/
Concordia University-Saint Paul	http://www.csp.edu/
East Metro Opportunities Industrialization Center	http://www.eastmetrooic.org/
Hamline University	http://www.hamline.edu/
Luther Seminary	http://www.luthersem.edu/
Macalester College	http://www.macalester.edu/
McNally Smith College of Music	http://www.mcnallysmith.edu/
Metropolitan State University	http://www.metrostate.edu/
Saint Paul College - A Community and Technical College	http://www.saintpaul.edu/
Scot Lewis School-St. Paul	http://www.empire.edu/press-20080915.html
University of St. Thomas	http://www.stthomas.edu/
William Mitchell College of Law	http://www.wmitchell.edu/
College of St. Scholastica	www.css.edu
St. Paul Preparatory School for International Students	www.stpaulprep.org
Kaplan Professional Schools	www.kaplan.com