GUIDEWAYS: INTEGRATION OF PARTS WITHIN THE SYSTEM

PROPORTION:
SIZE RELATIONSHIPS BETWEEN COMPONENTS
ARE BASED ON AN IDEAL STANDARD

Good design influences our sense of well being because it organizes our lives into a coherent whole. Through the centuries, human constructions have followed the patterns and designs found in nature.

Growth patterns informed the logarithmic spiral and mathematical formula of the Golden Section, which is the design basis of ancient Greek temples, sculptures and vases.

Three thousand years later, that formula has continued to inform the best of our design from clothing and furniture, to architecture and infrastructure.
