Work east of Arona Street requiring water service interruptions

Crews continue sanitary sewer and watermain service replacements between Arona Street and Hamline Avenue, with work shifting to the south side of Como Avenue. Work has shifted to the south side of Como Avenue between Pascal Street and Arona Street, and is progressing from east-to-west. Crews are able to complete up to five services each day.

Additionally, crews will begin preparations for stormwater infiltration basin construction and hydrant replacements, both of which will require water service interruptions in the coming weeks.

- Ongoing water service installation may require short-term water service interruption within the block where work is occurring, generally between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Any water interruption is anticipated to last less than one (1) hour. St. Paul Regional Water Service staff are providing advance notice via flyers for anticipated water service work.
- During sewer service replacement, residents are requested to not flush toilets or utilize washing machines or dishwashers. Construction staff will notify impacted residents prior to starting sewer service replacement work.
- St. Paul Regional Water Service crews will be setting up temporary water service in the next two weeks for the addresses noted below, to facilitate a longer construction period for stormwater infiltration basin and water service construction, which will require multiple days for installation. Stormwater infiltration basin construction and new water service installation is anticipated to begin shortly after Labor Day.

Impacted Como Avenue addresses include: 1346, 1354, 1358, 1508, 1512, and 1516

- Hydrant replacements are scheduled to begin the week of August 31st and will require water service interruption. St. Paul Regional Water Service staff will distribute shutdown notifications in advance of the work occurring.
